The type of personal information we collect

We currently collect and process the following information:

- Personal identifiers, contacts and characteristics – names and email addresses for event sign-ups
- Website user statistics (anonymous)
- Customer financial information
- Followers on social media

How we get the personal information and why we have it

Most of the personal information we process is provided to us directly by you for one of the following reasons:

- People signing up to events, for example webinars
- Customer information for sending invoices

We also receive personal information indirectly, from the following sources in the following scenarios:

- Followers on social media – but these are controlled by social media companies

We use the information that you have given us in order to:

- Run events
- Process invoices and payments for customers and suppliers

We do not share any information with anyone else.

Under the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), the lawful bases we rely on for processing this information are:

Your consent. You are able to remove your consent at any time. You can do this by contacting Jonathan Smith at jonathan@scillyorganics.com

How we store your personal information

Your information is securely stored on:

- Servers of online platforms - e.g. Eventbrite. This is not stored on our servers, and is in compliance of GDPR regulations,

Your data protection rights

Under data protection law, you have rights including:

Your right of access - You have the right to ask us for copies of your personal information.

Your right to rectification - You have the right to ask us to rectify personal information you think is inaccurate. You also have the right to ask us to complete information you think is incomplete.
